

In House Training

Training how you like, when you like and where you like...!

All our courses can be run “in-house” and tailored specifically to your needs at a date that suits your schedule and work routine as well as building upon your training requirements, systems and procedures.

They can all be delivered at premises of your choice and at a time to suit you. We can provide all training equipment, screens, handouts and documentation leaving you to only arrange a venue, the delegates and refreshments if required.

Outsourced training provision

Whether you have already identified a training need or you wish HSE Solutions to conduct a full training needs analysis of your workforce we are delighted to offer our outsourced unique tailored training provision. We, provide tailored training programs that can be rolled out over multiple sites. We can arrange local venues close to your facilities, contact and co-ordinate attendance at the event and provide full documentation on attendance and evaluation.

Cost effective training

In house training can often be a very cost-effective method where more than four staff need trained. The majority of courses can be run for up to 16 delegates and the fees charged remain the same irrespective of the numbers attending.

Client Specific Training

HSE Solutions can custom design courses specifically for clients on any subject relating the health, safety and environment. We are able to call on our extensive experience of our consultants as well as our external specialist to ensure that, whether it be for senior management or new trainees, you get the best custom designed training experience for your staff.
